

To infinity and beyond

Home Learning suggestions

We loved seeing all your Dragon related home learning.

Thank you for your hard work.

Read through these suggestions. Would you like to complete one with your family at home? You don't need to do all of them, or any of them, but if you do we would love to see your learning.

- Find out about the International Space Station. Write a fact file about the things you discover.
- Invent an alien friend. Draw or paint their picture and write a description. Remember all the things we learnt about writing last half term.
- Make a space world in a box. How might you make the landscape?
- Write some word problems for addition, subtraction and money using a space theme.

These suggestions are for the next few weeks, up to Easter.