Dear Parents/Carers,

The children in Jay class are now ready to take home weekly spellings. At the end of each week the children will take home their home learning journals, these will need to be bought back into school on a Thursday. The spellings will consist of both tricky words and words the children are now able to decode. These will coincide with the phonics phase each child is working on.

As we all know, the children can be very tired after school. There are many ways the children can practise these spellings. They can be:

- written in their home learning book,
- made with magnetic letters,
- painted, or
- used in a story your child is writing at home.

If your child becomes anxious or stressed whilst practising these please stop the activity and continue at a time where your child is more relaxed. Building these in to a routine will also help encourage the children.

The home learning book will also include our current curriculum information and home learning ideas. Thank you for your continued support both with home learning and in school. If you have any queries about the spellings please feel free to pop in and see me after school.

Best Wishes

Joanna Cole
