Worms in Swift Class!

I cannot explain how proud we all are of our Year 6 pupils who have completed their National tests (SATs) this week, working extremely hard and having shown positivity and self-belief throughout the week. Thanks to all the staff involved in supporting children this week and especially children from across the school who have maintained a calm and quiet environment for our oldest children.

Our children at Meldreth are well prepared for their assessments and in our Year 2's experience, have ended quite enjoying the challenge...some even completing more at home! Whilst teachers and children have certainly been working hard to prepare for these tests, at Meldreth we know the importance of a broad and balanced curriculum and we are making sure that we have plenty of learning fun too.

Mental Health Awareness

Next week, is Mental Health Awareness Week. This year's theme is anxiety. You can learn more here and access resources, including how we can support your child's anxiety in school.
