MATHS CHALLENGE

Today you can choose the addition activity you want to do. Select from:

Robot Addition - practice addition up to 10, 15 or 20.

Mental Maths Train - choose to practice number bonds to 10, 20 or 100.

Alien Addition - shoot spaceships with the correct number sentences.

Religious Education

In our last lesson, we listened to the story of Duni Chand and the needle.

1. Watch the video again, this time listening carefully to the story of 'The Milk and the Jasmine Flower'.
2. You can also read the story 'The Milk and the Jasmine Flower' at the bottom of the signpost.
3. How do you think Guru Nanak and Mardana felt when the messenger said there was no room for them in the city?

Activity

If Guru Nanak and Mardana came to Meldreth School and asked to come in what would you say?

How would you make them feel welcome? What could you share with them? Talk to an adult about your ideas.

PHONICS - Today we are continuing to focus on 'ew'.

Today you are going to make your own alien words using the grapheme 'ew'.

You will need some letters - scrabble tiles, magnetic letters or maybe write letters on pieces of paper.

Hi! My name is Hewb. What is yours?

I'm Dewpoo. Nice to meet you!

Music - Visit the Cambs music site Charanga (logins have been emailed to parents)

Activities for Your Imagination

1. Select warm up games and do challenge 4 (you will need space to move). There will be instructions for you to follow - your adult might need to help.
2. Listen to and appraise A Whole New World. This is from the Disney Classic Aladdin. If you want to see this part of the film click here to see Aladdin. You may remember we watched a clip from Aladdin when we looked at flying carpets in the spring term.
3. Select learn to sing the song Your Imagination. Follow the words and join in. If you have an instrument, you may want to play it too.

Plan Do Review

Today you can choose what you would like to do. Here are some ideas:

- Make your own binoculars to watch the birds in your garden - Watch this video for instructions.
- Create your own garden on Purple Mash
- Junk model your favourite insect

Reading Corner

Choose a book that you brought home from school. Read it with your adult.

How do you think you are doing with your reading? Is there something you can improve? Talk to your adult about it.

A little bit extra - Choose a game to play on PBS Peg Games or explore everything that PBS has to offer by visiting PBS everything. There are LOTS to choose from.

Show what you know or find out what you can about each of the headings. Try to do some work on each of the tasks but do try and do MORE about the one you like the sound of most. Ask a parent to email your work for Miss Jackson to mark. cjackson@meldreth.cambs.sch.uk

The Milk and the Jasmine Flower

Guru Nanak believed that everyone was equal whether they were rich or poor, sad or happy, clever or practical. He was travelling in India under the hot sun with his companion Mardana when they came close to a city.

The holy men in the city heard about him coming and were afraid. They knew that he was good man and they had promised to try to be good like him, but they had been greedy and unkind and were afraid to let him into the city.

They decided to send a messenger with a bowl full of milk to say that there was no room for anyone else in the city. As the bowl was full, so was the city, and they were sorry that they could not welcome Guru Nanak and Mardana.

Guru Nanak thanked the messenger and picked a jasmine flower from a nearby bush and floated it on the top of the milk, saying that there would always be room in the world for more goodness. The flower floated on top of the milk and not a drop was spilt, there was room for it!

The messenger returned to the city and told the holy men what had happened. They were very sorry and realised that what they had done was wrong. They threw open the city gates and asked Guru Nanak and Mardana to stay with them and teach them how to fill their city with good things.
